WELCOME TO 2018 IPA CONVENTION

Salaam, Witam do IPA, Welkom, Bienvenue, Bienvenido, Shalom, Zdrastvujtye, Willkommen

Colleagues,

On behalf of the leadership of the Illinois Psychological Association, I welcome you.

Moving Your Career Forward - practice\_science\_training\_service@IPA2018 is the title of this year's convention. Whether you are a student, early career psychologist, academician, or a seasoned clinical psychologist we hope that your experience with IPA strengthens your career path.

For your benefit we have created five foci at this convention.

1. Clinical programs will further your training and education on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Topics include: Ethics, pain management, couples therapy, the opioid and heroin crisis, developing a clinical practice, supervision, internship, prescriptive authority, substance abuse treatment, working with older adults, reimbursement updates, and the patient-therapist relationship.
2. The Use of Technology in Clinical Practice will be the focus of Thursday's pre-convention program. This will include topics such as telepsychology, HIPAA Security Rule, dealing with data breaches, and everyday use of technology and electronics.
3. The Clinical Psychologist in the present political and social climate. There will be several programs with this focus as well as an open conversation led by the IPA Social Responsibility Section. The IPA Lobbyist will offer advocacy training on Friday. There also will be training in developing your leadership potential.
4. Networking will occur throughout the Convention. Take advantage of coffee breaks, the luncheon on Thursday and Friday, and the Friday reception to connect with your colleagues.
5. Exhibitors and Sponsors will be available on Thursday and Friday. These programs, businesses, hospitals and universities provide valuable resources to our practices and patients. Visit each table during breaks.

I am looking forward to meeting you at this year's conference.

Lynda Behrendt, Psy.D.

WELCOME FROM THE IPA EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

---

Dear IPA Convention Attendee:

Welcome to the IPA 2018 Annual Convention! As Executive Director it has been a pleasure to work with Dr. Behrendt on this year's annual convention. Dr. Behrendt and her Convention Committee have worked hard to put together a broad scope of programs.

I hope that you will take full advantage of the opportunities offered at this year's annual convention. In addition to the learning offered by continuing education programs, the convention also enables you to network with your colleagues, exchange information and learn from one another.

Don't miss Thursday's all-day technology workshop. Experts from the American Psychological Association, technology consultants, and billing professionals will focus on a wide range of topics including telepsychology, electronic billing, social media, cybersecurity, and HIPAA compliance, among others. This an opportunity to hear from the experts and to ask your questions.

I encourage you to take time to visit with our exhibitors, inquire about their products and services and make them feel welcome. Walk through the Student Poster Session; your feedback means a lot to them. This year the Student Poster Session will be held later in the day and will be displayed at the President's Reception.

The IPA Annual Awards Luncheon will take place on Friday and there will be food breaks throughout the day. We hope you will attend the President's reception Friday evening. The Presidents Reception is nice way to catch up with old colleagues and make new ones, and a great networking opportunity.

Keep in mind, continuing education hours you earn at this convention will apply to those required by the State for the 2018- 2020 licensing period. Attend the entire convention and you will earn 15 continuing education credits.

I would like to thank the IPA CE Committee for their efforts in approving each of the workshop learning objectives. I also wish to express gratitude to everyone on the Convention Committee and to all the volunteers.

I look forward to meeting all of you and learning how the IPA can better serve our members and all psychologists in the state of Illinois.

Sincerely,

Marsha Karey

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, ILLINOIS PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

The Use of Technology in Clinical Practice: Technical, Clinical, Ethical, and Legal Issues

Ballroom A/D

6 Continuing Education Credits

9:00 AM - 12:15 PM

Part I: Technology in Daily Clinical Practice

HMS Midwest will discuss technology that is used daily in clinical practice. The focus will be on practicality, cost, confidentiality, and ease of use. Included in this workshop will be a discussion about Electronic Health Records, electronic billing, websites, social media, emails, texting, clinical apps, Cloud Storage, etc.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Jeffrey Freeze

Vice President of Operations
HMS Midwest, LLC

Where Jeff leads the revenue cycle management team in processing over $14 million in charges annually, including RCM services to over 125 providers across the United States, he also conducts practice analysis and financial consulting, and client training on the use of technology in their practice.

Jeff has assisted in the turn around and startup of more than 30 practices and helped grow the HMS Midwest team service offerings, among other distinctions in the field. Jeff helps individual providers and small groups by focusing his efforts on the business side of their practice, so they have more time for the clinical aspects.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

1. Attendees will be able to list one pro and one con of communicating with patients via text and email.
2. Attendees will be able to describe the pros and cons of participating in social media.

Part II: The HIPAA Security Rules and Cybersecurity

IntelliSuite IT Solutions will present an overview of the HIPAA Security Rules and the steps needed to be compliant, the best practices to defend against a data breach and the steps needed if a breach is discovered. Cybersecurity Insurance will be introduced.

ABOUT THE PRESENTERS:

Peter Ayedun

President
IntelliSuite IT Solutions

An expert on Citrix, Microsoft, and Cisco, Peter has consulted for Government and Enterprise companies for more than 20 years, implementing network and security solutions based on leading practices.

He co-founded IntelliSuite IT Solutions in 1998 with the goal of assisting clients with the proper use of technology to achieve maximum efficiencies and profitability. His Citrix proficiency led his practice to focus on the Healthcare Industry where Networking, Security and implementing a HIPAA Compliance framework is necessary to meet the requirements of the HIPAA Security Rules.

An expert in Remote Access Solutions, Peter recently started TruGrid, a cloud platform that provides secure remote access to enterprise systems utilizing Multifactor Authentication, Single Sign-On, and Dark Web Scan reporting.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

1. Attendees will be able to state the best practices to defend against a data breach.
2. Attendees will list the steps to take if a data breach is discovered.

1:15 PM - 5:00 PM

Part III: Practice in the Age of Telepsychology

The presentation will cover the need and rationale for allowing psychologists to use electronic communications interjurisdictionally to provide telepsychological services ethically and legally to patients. It will examine the APA Guidelines on Telepsychology with particular focus on competency, informed consent and confidentiality and security of the data as well as the ASPPB Standards on Telepsychology. The presentation will explore the obstacles for interjurisdictional telepsychology practice and offer solutions for the ethical and legal interjurisdictional practice along with a risk management framework. Further, a discussion of ASPPB's E.Passport and the Psychology Interjurisdictional Compact, PSYPACT, will be provided.

ABOUT THE PRESENTERS

Jana N. Martin, Ph.D.
Chief Executive Officer
American Insurance Trust (The Trust) and
President, Trust Risk Management Services

Dr. Jana N. Martin received her Master's degree and Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Mississippi and completed a Child-Specialty internship at Duke University Medical Center. She has held various positions since becoming a psychologist, including establishing, designing, and directing both the first adolescent boys' group home and the first adolescent inpatient psychiatric unit in the State of Mississippi; directing the Office of Human Resources for the Mississippi Department of Mental Health; serving as the Chief Psychologist for the Psychiatric Clinic for Youth at Miller Children's Hospital in California; and teaching at California State University at Long Beach and Pepperdine University

After years of independent practice, work in hospitals, and outpatient clinics, Dr. Jana Martin became CEO of The American Insurance Trust (The Trust) in 2010. She has worked to provide more support services for Trust policyholders such as expanding clinical and risk management consulting and educational resources and products and presenting workshops on strategic planning for successful practices for psychologists at every level of their careers. Dr. Martin focuses on promoting the profession of psychology by empowering psychologists with information and support. She has been commended by the American Psychological Association with a Presidential Citation for exemplary work as a modern-day practitioner and is a recipient of the Rosalee G. Weiss Award for Outstanding Leaders in Psychology.

Alex M. Siegel, J.D., Ph.D.
Director of Professional Affairs
Association of State and Provincial Psychology Boards

Dr. Alex M. Siegel is an attorney and clinical psychologist. Three different Pennsylvania Governors (Ridge, Schweiker and Rendell) appointed Dr. Siegel to the Pennsylvania State Board of Psychology. He served on the Board for 13 years, 6 of which as Chair of the State Board. Dr. Siegel was elected to the Board of Directors of the Association of State and Provincial Psychology Boards (ASPPB). He was also elected President of ASPPB in 2008. Currently, Dr. Siegel is the Director of Professional Affairs (DPA) for ASPPB. In his role as DPA, he serves as a liaison between ASPPB and state and national psychological associations. He provides training to new members of psychology licensing boards in the U.S. and the colleges of psychology in Canada. He was staff to the APA/ASPPB/APAIT joint task force on telepsychology and to the ASPPB task force on regulations for interjurisdictional telepsychological practice. He is a member of the PSYPACT task force. He is also a member of ASPPB Supervision Guidelines task force and Chair of the Model Act and Regulations Committee (MARC). In addition, Dr. Siegel consults with state governments, attorneys, courts and maintains a small clinical and forensic practice.

Deborah C. Baker, JD
Director, Legal and Regulatory Policy,
Practice Directorate
American Psychological Association

Deborah C. Baker, JD is the Director of Legal & Regulatory Policy in the Office of Legal & Regulatory Affairs of the American Psychological Association's Practice Directorate. Since joining APA in 2004, she has worked with state psychological associations, APA leadership and members, and regulatory bodies on a variety of issues involving scope of practice/licensure, testing, telehealth, prescriptive authority, HIPAA compliance as well as other legal and regulatory issues.

Ms. Baker has provided support to several APA task forces, including the joint APA-ASPPB-APAIT Task Force on Telepsychology, which developed the APA Guidelines on the Practice of Telepsychology. She represents APA Practice in several outside organizations, including the Coalition for Patients' Rights and the American Telemedicine Association.

Ms. Baker has authored several articles on telehealth issues as well as co-authored a chapter on interjurisdictional practice—see Campbell, L. F., Millán, F. A., & Martin, J. N. (Eds.). (2018). A telepsychology casebook: Using technology ethically and effectively in your professional practice. Washington, DC, US: American Psychological Association.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

1. Learn about the APA Telepsychology Practice Guidelines, ASPPB Psychology Interjurisdictional Compact (PSYPACT) and relevant legal and regulatory issues for interjurisdictional telepractice.
2. Identify at least one ethical and legal way to provide interjurisdictional services to patients.
3. Become familiar with E.Passport and PSYPACT and how psychologists can obtain an E Passport.

FRIDAY MORNING PROGRAMING 1.5 AND 3 HOUR SESSIONS

9:30 AM - 12:45 PM

PROGRAM 1

Ethical Considerations: Navigating Professional and Private Lives

This program meets the Illinois mandatory ethics continuing education requirement for psychologists.

Managing professional and personal boundaries, coping with the loss/decline of privacy, maintaining meaningful informed consent, coping with the pace of technological change, and managing threats to safety are some of the ethical challenges posed by technological innovation. The IPA Ethics Committee will address these issues, offering guidelines for prudent practice.

Susan Zoline, Ph.D., Chair, Illinois School of Professional Psychology, Co-Chair, IPA Ethics Committee, IPA Academic Section Chair

Paul Cantz, Psy.D., Adler University, Member, IPA Ethics Committee

9:30 AM - 11:00 AM

PROGRAM 2

Emotionally Focused Therapy: An Empirically-Supported Treatment for Couple Therapy

This introductory seminar outlines the theory and interventions of this couple therapy. Rooted in attachment theory, EFT is a 3-stage experiential approach to decrease conflict and create secure engagement. The therapist helps partners shift their conflict cycle by accessing and expressing the powerful emotion states that have maintained that cycle.

Mara Stein, Psy.D., Private Practice & Health Psychology

Don Zeidlhack, Psy.D., President, McDougald and Associates

9:30 AM - 11:00 AM

PROGRAM 3

Protecting the Therapeutic Relationship in The Age of Technology

The psychotherapeutic relationship has been confirmed by researchers as a key element in successful treatments. This panel speaks to the challenges to the therapy relationship in light of the growing dominance of technology and asks how we can value and protect this essential facet of psychotherapy practice going forward.

Nancy Burke, Ph.D., Chair, Associate Professor Northwestern University, Private Practice & Chicago Center for Psychoanalysis

Linda Michaels, Psy.D., Private Practice

Janice Muhr, Ph.D., Private Practice

9:30 AM - 11:00 AM

PROGRAM 4

Leadership Development: Personal Growth + Professional Leadership

Leadership development is essential to the growth and sustainability of any organization, and creates a pipeline of future leaders-in-training. The conceptualization of an organization's leadership initiative and presenters' experience in leadership development will be discussed; tools for assessment and leadership exercises will be conducted.

Laura L. Faynor-Ciha, Ph.D., Chair, IPA Immediate Past President

11:15 AM - 12:45 PM

PROGRAM 5

2019 CPT Code Revisions for Clinical Practice and New Policies for Clinical Training

There have been a number of important developments involving psychologists nationally and in Illinois, in particular, that will affect clinical practice and the reimbursement for clinical training in the coming years. In this symposium, IPA's Health Care Reimbursement Committee will highlight these major changes for Illinois practitioners.

Specifically, new CPT codes for psychological and neuropsychological testing will become effective January 1, 2019. Insurance policies will be changing, particularly for psychology trainees in Illinois, as well as pre-authorization requirements for CPT 90837. The Clinical Practice Section has a brand new section benefit, allowing no cost consultation[s] with a Professional Practice Management Company to reduce your billing errors. This symposium will highlight these changes and what clinicians need to know to be prepared.

Patricia Farrell, Ph.D., IPA Clinical Section Chair & HCRC Chair, Past President, IPA

Neil H. Pliskin, Ph.D., IPA HCRC Committee

Theresa M. Schultz, Ph.D., IPA North Region Representative, The LodeStone Center for Behavioral Health

11:15 AM - 12:45 PM

PROGRAM 6

Foundational Competencies in Working with Older Adults

By 2050, the U.S. older adult population will have doubled to 83.7 million people from earlier in this century, and the workforce is woefully underprepared to meet the mental health needs of this population. Generalists are unlikely to attain full specialty geropsychology competency, but foundational competencies have recently been published. This workshop, provided by authors of the competencies, will outline the competencies and provide critical elements of what all psychologists should know about working with older adults. This workshop is intended to be an introduction to a larger training that will result in a Foundational Competencies in Geropsychology certificate.

Kathy Borchardt, Psy.D., Chair, Private Practice, IPA, Health & Rehabilitation Section Chair

Erin Emery-Tiburcio, Ph.D., ABPP., Chair, Associate Professor, Rush University & Co-Director, Rush Center for Excellence in Aging

11:15 AM - 12:45 PM

PROGRAM 7

Illinois Advocacy: How To Be an Effective Legislative Advocate

This seminar will review the past successes of the IPA including the RxP and PSYPACT legislation and go over the advocacy we used examining what was successful and what was not. Additionally, this seminar will train you to talk to your elected official and effectively advocate for your legislative interests.

Lisa Grossman, J.D., Ph.D., Legislative Committee Chair, IPA Past President

PROGRAM 8

Toward a New Model: Predoctoral Training in Clinical Psychopharmacology

Training in clinical psychopharmacology is normally undertaken at the postdoctoral level. However, predoctoral psychopharmacology training offers many advantages. A predoctoral model of training in clinical psychopharmacology implemented at The Chicago School of Professional Psychology will be presented. Implications for the future training and education of psychologists are provided.

Gerardo Rodriguez-Menendez, Ph.D., ABPP., MSCP., Chair,
The Chicago School of Professional Psychology

Beth Rom-Rymer, Ph.D., Past President, IPA, APA Board of Directors,
Chair-Elect APA Council Leadership Team

Morgan Ferris, M.A., MSCP Student, The Chicago School of Professional Psychology, Doctoral Student, Adler University, IPA, IPAGS Board Member

2:30 PM - 4:00 PM

PROGRAM 9

Nonpharmacological Treatment of Chronic Pain Within an Integrative Care Approach

The primary goal is to educate providers in the basics of chronic pain syndromes and the chronic pain patient's experience, including the emotional, cognitive and social challenges chronic pain presents. Current standards of care and insights into working within an integrative team approach to chronic pain patients will be shared.

Kathy Borchardt, Psy.D., Chair, Private Practice, IPA, Health & Rehabilitation Section Chair

2:30 PM - 4:00 PM

PROGRAM 10

Perinatal Mental Health: Treatment Options, Diversity Issues and Policy Implications

Women in the perinatal period (ranging from pregnancy planning through postpartum) are often vulnerable to mood and anxiety disorders. This is especially true for ethnic minority women. We will discuss the implications for mental health treatment as well as social policy to increase perinatal women's access to quality health care.

Nicole Heath, Ph.D., Chair, Assistant Professor, Center for Women's Behavioral and Mental Health

Angela K Lawson, Ph.D., Associate Professor, Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine

Natalie R. Stevens, Ph.D., Assistant Professor, Department of Behavioral Sciences Rush University Medical Center

2:30 PM - 4:00 PM

PROGRAM 11

Beyond the Ethics Code: Epistemology, Science, Faith and Choice

The program seeks to make explicit factors seldom explored that influence ethical decision-making. Arguing that how we understand nature will influence what we deem ethical, the presentation will examine the differences between systems of critical relevance for psychologists: science and faith. Participants will apply these concepts through case examples.

Armand Cerbone, Ph.D., ABPP., Chair, Private Practice, IPA, Past President

4:00 PM - 4:15 PM

Mid-afternoon break sponsored by: Pretzel & Stouffer, Chtd.

4:15 PM - 5:45 PM

PROGRAM 12

Sponsored by: Deirdre Tannen, Psy.D.

The Future of Reimbursement and Quality Reporting

The world of health care is changing for providers, including psychologists and other mental and behavioral health specialists, with more emphasis being placed on tracking outcomes on their patients in order to get reimbursed. But to do this, psychologists need access to outcome measures that accurately capture the mental and behavioral health problems that your patients face. This presentation will focus on efforts by the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to shift to new reimbursement mechanisms to replace fee-for-service. Specifically, the 2015 Medicare Access and CHIP Reauthorization Act established two payment reform models within Medicare's Quality Payment Program: the Merit-based Incentive Payment System (MIPS) and Advanced Alternative Payment Models. An overview of how changes in Medicare will affect psychologists in 2019 and beyond will be presented with a focus on reimbursement issues and quality reporting under MIPS. The presentation will also discuss resources being developed by APA and APAPO to help psychologists successfully participate in value-based payment programs

C. Vaile Wright, Ph.D., Chair, Director of Research and Special Projects in the Practice Directorate, American Psychological Association

4:15 PM - 5:45 PM

The Opioid and Heroin Crisis. What Psychologists Need to Know: Break the Stigma and Provide Hope

A panel of experts will discuss the current problem of the Opioid/Heroin crisis, one county's initiative to address the problem, medications to help support recovery, the impact on families, and when to refer to treatment and community resources.

Denise Casey, Psy.D., CADC, NBCCHT, Chair

Bruce N. Johnson, M.S., Chief Executive Officer, Nicasa

Kenji Oyasu, M.D.

4:15 PM - 5:45 PM

PROGRAM 14

The Citizen Psychologist: A Conversation for Change

We will discuss special populations that experience mental health issues as a byproduct of systemic oppression, marginalization, bullying, racism, and prejudice. This program will allow participants to engage in thoughtful dialogue and explore tangible ways the Social Responsibility Section of the IPA can advance larger goals through programming and advocacy.

Abigail Brown, Psy.D., Chair, Private Practice, IPA, Social Responsibility Section Chair

Armand Cerbone, Ph.D., ABPP., Private Practice, IPA, Past President

Erin Alexander, Psy.D., Private Practice, IPA, Metropolitan Area Representative

4:15 PM - 5:45 PM

PROGRAM 15

Professionalism and Wellness: Bringing New Competencies into Internship Training

Training programs accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA) are tasked with addressing wellness and professionalism as an explicit profession-wide competency (APA, 2015). Discussants will present varying perspectives—from interns, to supervisor, to training director—on a curriculum series and opportunities to develop professionalism and wellness behaviors during internship training.

Anna Hickey, Ph.D., ABPP, Chair, IPA South Central Region Representative, Assistant Professor of Clinical Pediatrics, SIU School of Medicine

Explanation of the Licensed Psychologist Legislative Assessment Fee: The base Legislative Assessment is $60.00 for all licensed psychologist. The Supplemental Legislative Assessment is based on your income. These assessments are designated exclusively for IPA Legislative and Advocacy activities. The IPA continually defends the rights of psychologists to continue to provide the services for which they are trained. The IPA also monitors activities and advocates for legislation that has an impact on the consumers we serve, consumers who are not organized to protect themselves. A legislative assessment is charged to all psychologists with the rationale that even those psychologists who see only a few patients a week do so because the IPA works to protect that right.
